

Chiba University G-COE program

This program aims to provide an opportunity for young scientists to learn about cutting-edge immunology research. Forty participants will be selected on a competitive basis.

RIKEN RCAI International Summer Program 2012

Date: June 22-27, 2012

Place: RCAI in Yokohama, Japan

Eligibility

- Ph.D. students
- Postdocs (within 3 years after Ph.D. degree)

Program

- 1 week lecture course by internationally distinguished immunologists for forty participants
- Additional 1 month internship course will be offered to selected applicants (four participants)
- Poster and short oral presentation by participants
- Includes participation in the RCAI-JSI International Symposium on Immunology 2012 (June 28, 29)

Housing and Transportation

- Lodging and travel expenses will be fully covered

Application period:

Nov 21 - Dec 19, 2011

For more information and applications:

<http://web.rcai.riken.jp/risp/>

Contact: risp2012@rcai.riken.jp

RISP2012

Lecturers

K. Mark Ansel (UCSF, USA)
 Thomas Boehm (Max-Planck, Germany)
 Hilde Cheroutre (LIAI, USA)
 Rudolf Grosschedl (Max-Planck, Germany)
 Axel Kallies (WEHI, Australia)
 Gary A. Koretzky (Univ. Pennsylvania, USA)
 Shigeo Koyasu (Keio Univ., Japan)
 Toshinori Nakayama (Chiba Univ., Japan)
 Takaharu Okada (RIKEN RCAI, Japan)
 Kiyoshi Takeda (Osaka Univ., Japan)
 Ichiro Taniuchi (RIKEN RCAI, Japan)
 Matthias von Herrath (LIAI, USA)

and others

