

This program aims to provide an opportunity for young scientists to learn about cutting-edge immunology research. Forty participants will be selected on a competitive basis.

RIKEN RCAI International Summer Program 2011

Date : July 1-6, 2011

Place : RCAI in Yokohama, Japan

Eligibility

- Graduate students and postdocs (within 3 years after Ph.D. degree)

Program

- 1 week lecture course by internationally distinguished immunologists for forty participants
- Additional 1 month internship course will be offered to selected applicants (four participants)
- Poster and short oral presentation by participants
- Includes participation in the RCAI-JSI International Symposium on Immunology 2011 (July 7, 8)

Housing and Transportation

- Lodging and travel expenses will be fully covered

Application period:
Jan 3 - Feb 7, 2011

For more information and applications:
<http://web.rcai.riken.jp/risp/>

Contact: risp2011@rcai.riken.jp

Lecturers

K. Mark Ansel (UCSF, USA)
 Thomas Boehm (Max-Planck, Germany)
 Rudolf Grosschedl (Max-Planck, Germany)
 Shigeo Koyasu (Keio University, Japan)
 Gary A. Koretzky (Univ. Pennsylvania, USA)
 Toshinori Nakayama (Chiba Univ. Japan)
 Kiyoshi Takeda (Osaka Univ. Japan)
 Masaru Taniguchi (RIKEN RCAI, Japan)
 Ichiro Taniuchi (RIKEN RCAI, Japan)
 Matthias von Herrath (LIAI, USA)

and others

